

NEW CANAAN HIGH SCHOOL
CO-CURRICULAR ORGANIZATIONS & CLUBS
AND VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES
2016 – 2017

December 2016 Edition

Our co-curricular clubs and organizations exist to provide all at NCHS opportunities to pursue their interests, express their creativity and learn about or try something new, as well as a way for students and staff to find others within the high school community who share those interests and are eager to work collaboratively while having fun. When an activity or club has regularly scheduled meetings, that time (and location) are provided. If there is no meeting time provided, then you should listen for announcements, check the TV monitors and watch for posters around the building. If you have any questions or would like to start a new club, contact Mr. Rothman in the Main Office.

Adviser and student leader names are provided for e-mail communication and can be contacted through first.last@ncps-k12.org, unless noted otherwise.

Lastly, to insure everyone's safe participation, we expect that the student and/or parent take seriously the responsibility to inform the club Adviser of any medical information pertinent in an emergency.

There is no fee for participation in any co-curricular organization, club or activity at New Canaan High School. However, to offset costs associated with some of these groups or activities, members or participants may be solicited for contributions and/or asked to participate in fundraising. If doing so in whole or in part proves burdensome to any NCHS student and his/her family, the school will cover such costs so that no student should be excluded from participating. Please contact the club Adviser, your child's counselor or grade-level administrator if this is an issue and arrangements will be made discreetly.

As such, the club positions itself within the school community as an academic “sport,” with the following goals: promoting a world view that respects divergent national priorities, developing skills in research, critical thinking, persuasion, and collaboration, providing a platform for club members to compete at the highest national and international level, giving back to the school, local and international community and, ultimately, preparing members for leadership positions at college and beyond.

The club members will then vote, via email, to decide the topic. Members will be expected to do basic research on the topic and should always keep themselves updated on world news in general. During meetings, the club will discuss the short, medium, and long-term effects of the current events chosen as that meetings discussion topic. We also hope to bring in an outside speaker once every quarter. Do you want a valuable extracurricular experience that is also tremendous fun? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, the New Canaan High School Engineering Club is for you.

The Engineering Club aims to provide students with an extracurricular experience that will prepare them for a career in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics). The club allows students to develop skills that are key to succeeding in the STEM industry, such as critical thinking, collaboration, and organization in a fun, relaxing environment. In the club's biweekly meetings, members will participate in design challenges, discuss the latest happenings in the STEM industry, and become familiar with the myriad of career options for students with an interest in STEM. Occasional guest speakers and field trips will expose students to the industry and allow them to get a feel for what it takes to succeed in a STEM career. Casual players are welcome to join us on meeting days, and can form their own teams to play and have fun exploring eSports; but casual game play will not be our main focus. Our competitive players will join teams, practice three times a week, and grow together throughout the year. We will have coaches help our teams review games to discuss strategies for future games and plan ahead. When these teams feel confident, the team captains will join tournaments. In this way, we will focus not only on having the best teams and support staff for our teams, but also creating a fun and supportive social environment for students to form connections with new people who share their interests.

GIRLS GOVERN GLOBAL MEDIA CLUB

*Sydney Kend & Nicole Weiss - Student Leaders
Ms. Jessica Cullen & Ms. Megan McCauley - Advisers*

Girls Govern Global Media is a unique club geared to express feminism through social media in a 21st century society. The organization itself, Girls Global Media, has made major strides in advocating for feminism, in fact, they presented and passed a Bill of Rights to the US government with regards to political issues that are targeting females across the United States. While this club probably won't go to such extremes, there will be monthly, quick projects given to advocate for feminism and political rights through social media. Such projects could include a short film about equal payment issues, in which it will be submitted to Girls Global Media and be used for advertisements to spread awareness about feminism. Additionally, there will be local conferences in cities such as Washington DC hosted by Girls Global Media to further present and discuss the issues a female faces presently. In short, we hope this club gives girls the confidence to advocate for their rights and to familiarize them with the positive impact social media can have on political and social influence.

RECORD CLUB

Thursdays at 2:15 PM in Room 224
*Connor McDevitt – Student Leader
Mr. Aaron 'Axl' Gallo - Adviser*

It is too often that people who love music remain ignorant to the thousands of great artists and albums that go unnoticed. Music is a passion that many people in the school share. Every week, a new album will be presented. Club members would listen to the album and show up to the next meeting to engage in a deep and thoughtful about their opinions on the album. The conversations would go beyond "I liked/didn't like it" and go more in depth into the music and album as a whole: How it made us feel, how it compares to the artist's other work, what we liked, what we disliked, the pacing of it, etc. We would listen and discuss albums from all different genres/artists, old and new, and anyone can participate. The goal in the end is to expose listeners to different kinds of music.

Wednesdays at 6PM in the NCHS Library
*Riley O'Neill & Anjali Parmar – Student Leaders
Michelle Luhtala & Jackie Whiting - Advisers*

Occasionally, the book's author joins the virtual discussion. Authors Libba Bray, Cristin

Terrill, Leslye Walton, and Lauren Myracle have joined our #SWVBC book discussions. Once per year, our club meets at a local bookstore to make selections for the high school library.

SPECTATOR LITERARY MAGAZINE

Monday Evenings (at various members' homes)

Emma Dahill and Julia Means – Editors

Ms. Maggie Hamill – Adviser

Spectator is the high school's literary magazine of published student writing and artwork. This student-run organization meets weekly on Monday evenings at club members' homes throughout New Canaan to discuss submitted work. In the spring the group organizes accepted work and creates the magazine layout using In Design. A local publishing firm prints and binds the product for us to sell to the student body and community members. Spectator is a great opportunity for students who like writing, especially poetry and short stories, and is a wonderful opportunity to meet and converse with other students of similar interests.

S.T.E.A.M. CLUB

Wednesdays 2:15 PM in the Library

Riley O'Neill & Spencer Reeves – Student Leaders

Michelle Luhtala & Jackie Whiting - Advisers

What happened when the Saxe S.T.E.M. Club met the high school art program? It blew off some S.T.E.A.M. (Hahaha?)! The student-led S.T.E.A.M. club combines robotics, circuitry and coding with art. Members are challenged to invent and innovate, to pursue their passions, and to share their learning. You've heard of TechXpert? You've heard of Maker Majors? You've thought about taking an art class, but couldn't fit it into your schedule? This is the club for you! Come check us out in the NCHS Library Makerspace on Wednesdays after school.

THE S.T.E.M. EXPLORATION CLUB

Abhinav Pal & Peter Windas – Student Leaders

STOCK CLUB

Wednesdays at 2:15 PM in Room 218

Alex Urbahn & Cole Kammerer – Student Leaders

Mr. Chris Tournas - Adviser

Stock Club is an after-school opportunity for students to get a glimpse at what the world of investing has to offer. Rather than posing a risk with real life investments and literal currency, members will be entered into the Stock Market Game to get a chance at testing their abilities. Each group will consist of a few students (depending on the number of club members), and will be given $100,000 of virtual money to make investments in the virtual market. Gathering on a weekly basis, the club will gather to discuss recent news and possible stock futures. If the number of members permits, the club will be divided into separate sectors to focus on different areas of the market (clean energy, insurance, etc.) In addition to this component, we will be introducing a new facet that was not present in the previous stock club. With the help of Mr. Tournas, we are considering adding the mathematical component to what it means to invest. With the help of possible volunteers with first-hand investing experience on Wall Street, we hope to educate club members as well as create a competitive environment.

TECHNOLOGY STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The water pump outs will occur twice a year, once in the fall and once in the spring and will work in conjunction with the Long Island Soundkeeper Organization to effectively clean up the waterways. Before the pump outs, there will be fundraising projects to help fund the cleanup program, which will be discussed and planned at club meetings. The club is open to all NCHS students. SERVICE

AVIELLE FOUNDATION – NCHS CHAPTER

*Alice Gelhaus & Cameron Rhind – Student Leaders
Mr. Richard Webb – Adviser*

Avielle Rose Richman was one of twenty-six children and educators tragically killed at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, CT on December 14th, 2012. Avielle's parents, Jennifer and Jeremy, are infinitely heart broken, and like so many of you, want to bring about changes to stop a tragedy such as this from happening to any community — ever again. The Avielle Foundation has been created to honor their loving daughter — along with all the others who have fallen victim to senseless violence — by truly understanding what leads someone to engage in such harmful behavior. We're working closely with world leaders in two vital areas: brain health research and community building.

BUILDON

*Grace Stearns & Alana Tonghini - Student Leaders
Mrs. Amy Rothschild – Adviser*

Since its founding in September of 2012, our chapter has raised over $55,000 to fund the completion of two two-room school houses, and an adult literacy program in the Kasungu and Neno Districts of Malawi as well as a school in a rural village in Nicaragua. This year, we're hoping to continue the trend by raising another $30,000 to go towards a school in Africa. Members of this club will participate in local community service activities by pairing with organizations such as NeighborLink, Person-to-Person, the New Canaan Nature Center, Waveny Care Center, soup kitchens, and more, but we host regular fundraisers such as bake sales, holiday card sales, high school dances, and photography exhibits throughout the year. Furthermore, instead of sending off a check at the end of the year, we will try to travel to the school construction site on a ten-day trek during the summer to work one-on-one with the people we have been devoted to helping. This hands-on experience is one of the most enlightening aspects of our education to date and it reaffirms the importance of what we do.

We will determine the best venues for selling our bake goods, and determining what organization would be the best to partner with to ensure all funds go directly to the specific project we select. In the past we have partnered with We (Free the Children) and Water.Org to send monies to India and China. If you have an interest in making a difference in the world and have great marketing ideas, this is the place for you. We need people who care about the environment, literacy and most of all, helping those who don't have our opportunities. If you like to connect with the community, have artistic skills for making posters etc, or like to bake, we would love to have you join. We will explore the different communities that need our support and select one we think we can impact. If you need to contact me, my email is jia.mize@ncps-k12.org.
