NEW and NOTEWORTHY
(Books to Inspire Great Discussions)

Phone Call with a Fish by Silvia Vecchini, 2018
“A thoughtful consideration of communication and connection.” ~ Kirkus

Charlie & Mouse Even Better by Laurel Snyder, 2019
“An affectionate and quirky offering, spot-on for beginning independent readers.”
~ Kirkus (part of a series, with previously published titles)

Home Run, Touchdown, Basket, Goal!: Sports Poems for Little Athletes by Leo Landry, 2019. “With sweet and simple rhymes, these poems celebrate a range of sports. From baseball and basketball, to karate and swimming, there’s something for everyone!” ~ Macmillan

“Fast-paced, with super simple vocabulary and a smattering of earth science to spark interest in young rock collectors everywhere. (Fiction. 6-8)” ~ Kirkus

“The Apollo 11 mission ignites a young boy’s lifelong passion for rockets and astronomy.” ~ Kirkus

Good Dog, McTavish by Meg Rosoff, 2019. “A perceptive dog rescues a family in crisis with sheer cleverness and humor...a good selection for those ready for the next step beyond early readers and will undoubtedly create more children wanting a great dog to join the family. (Fantasy. 7-10)” ~ Kirkus

Claude in the City by Alex Smith, 2015 (Series). “Quirky, delightfully odd, and positively surreal, Alex T. Smith’s illustrated early chapter book series promises giggle-filled bedtime reading and a laugh-out-loud option for readers transitioning from picture books to chapter books.” ~ Amazon

Next up, some important information about independent reading levels . . .

Our current thinking about levels: The leveling system was intended for teachers to use to guide their instruction. It isn’t a number or letter to compare one student to another, and it should never be a label used to define your child’s reading identity. The leveling system is not an exact science. Levels are about a set of book characteristics and a text’s complexity. Levels can never capture the unique experiences and abilities that each reader brings to a book. Refer to levels for guidance, but also, please consider your child’s interests, background knowledge, and motivation when selecting books for pleasure.

When your child is reading at a G/H level:

Characteristics of Level G/H books:
- Story concepts become more complex, many are somewhat unfamiliar to children
- Story vocabulary becomes more challenging
- 4-8 lines of text per page with smaller print and text location (top of page, bottom of page) may vary
- Sentences are longer in length and complex
Important behaviors to notice and support with your child:
- Using both text and pictures to comprehend the story
- Figure out unknown words using their decoding strategies
- Can retell the story, including details, to demonstrate their understanding of the story
- Reading fluently (without frequent stops and with expression)
- Re-reading to check for understanding
- Reads a variety of fiction and nonfiction
- Makes connections between text and another text (“This reminds me the book __________ where the characters moved away.”)
- Makes connections between the text and themselves or their world (“I got hurt like the character in the story, and I was sad too.”)

Some examples of G/H level books:
- Chicka Chicka Boom Boom by Bill Martin Jr. & John Archabault
- Super Fly Guy by Tedd Arnold
- Biscuit by Alyssa Capucilli
- Growing Vegetable Soup by Lois Ehlert
- More Spaghetti, I Say! by Rita Gelman
- One Fish, Two Fish, Red Fish, Blue Fish by Dr. Seuss
- Put Me In The Zoo by Robert Lopshire
- The Seasons of Arnold’s Apple Tree by Gail Gibbons

(These titles are provided as a point of reference when choosing books at these levels.)

When your child is reading at an I/J level:

Characteristics of Level I/J books:
- Variety of fiction and nonfiction texts available
- The story structure is complex
- Pictures are available, but they are used to support the text (children cannot rely on the pictures for clues)
- Different points of view from different characters are evident
- Vocabulary continues to be more challenging and children need to use a variety of strategies to decode these words
- Some books at this level may be beginning chapter books
Important behaviors to notice and support with your child:
- Ability to read fluently (with little stops and with expression)
- Child does not rely on pictures for clues, gets information from the text
- Figure out unknown words using their decoding strategies
- Can retell the story including details
- Able to stop reading a text, and then later continue reading without forgetting story
- Re-reading to check for understanding if needed
- Reads a variety of fiction and nonfiction
- Makes connections between the text they are reading and other texts, their world, or themselves

!Henry and Mudge

Some examples of I/J level books:
- The Giving Tree by Shel Silverstein
- Curious George by H.A. Rey
- Henry and Mudge books by Cynthia Rylant
- Are You My Mother? by P.D. Eastman
- Hattie and the Fox by Mem Fox
- The Napping House by Audrey Wood
- The Kissing Hand by Audrey Penn
- Henny Penny by Paul Galdone

(These titles are provided as a point of reference when choosing books at these levels.)

!Book Star

When your child is reading at a K/L level:

Characteristics of Level K/L books:
- Books are chapter-like, have long periods of text without pictures
- Pictures are available, but they are used to support the text (children cannot rely on the pictures for clues)
- Text has many different events that occur at different times, however those events are all related to the overall “plot” of the story
- Vocabulary is challenging
- Text often needs to be read over a period of time
Important behaviors to notice and support with your child:
- Able to stop reading a text, and then later continue reading without forgetting story
- Can figure out unknown vocabulary by using a variety of strategies (re-reading, sounding out, recognizing word patterns, etc)
- Understand complex ideas
- Able to read a variety of genres (Fiction, non-fiction, etc)
- Able to retell the text with specific details
- Reading fluently (without frequent stops and with expression)

Some examples of K/L level books:
- If You Give a Pig A Party by Laura Numeroff
- Arthur books by Marc Brown
- Diary of a Worm by Doreen Cronin
- Alexander & the Horrible, No Good, Very Bad Day by Judith Viorst
- Amelia Bedelia books by Peggy Parish
- Frog and Toad by Arnold Lobel
- Nate the Great by Marjorie Sharmat

(These titles are provided as a point of reference when choosing books at these levels.)

When your child is reading at an M/N level:

Characteristics of Level M/N books:
- Books are lengthy, often chapter books
- Smaller print
- Sophisticated vocabulary
- Child must use what they already know to understand/interpret more abstract concepts
- Story plot is complex

Important behaviors to notice and support with your child:
- Uses decoding strategies and background knowledge to decode unknown words
- Reading in a fluent manner, as if talking, over longer stretches of text
- Reading silently
- Able to remember plots and characters over several days
- Demonstrates ability to understand/interpret different characters or plots
- Able to search for and find information in texts
Here are some examples of M/N level books:

- The Teacher From the Black Lagoon by Mike Thaler
- Magic Tree House books by Mary Pope Osborne
- Cloudy With A Chance of Meatballs by Judi Barrett
- Judy Moody Around the World in 8 ½ Days by Megan McDonald
- Junie B. Jones books by Barbara Park
- Jigsaw Jones books by James Preller
- Sylvester and the Magic Pebble by William Steig
- Flat Stanley by Jeff Brown

(These titles are provided as a point of reference when choosing books at these levels.)
