

Workshop and Course Final Project Rubric

	Unacceptable	Fair	Proficient	Excellent
Connection to Curriculum	Project is not connected in any way to school curriculum with no clear application to the classroom	Project has possible curricular connections, but lacks course-specific content	Project is designed to be integrated into a specific course or courses	Project is designed to be integrated into a specific course or courses with specific entry points planned for the following year
Integration of Current Scholarship	Project does not reflect or integrate any current scholarship or educational theory	Project reflects current scholarship, but does not overtly integrate it into product	Project reflects current scholarship and explicitly integrates those ideas into the product	Project reflects and integrates current scholarship as well as indicating mastery of the theory
Academic Rigor	Project is not representative of graduate level work	Project represents graduate level work, but may not contain enough content	Project represents graduate level work with satisfactory amounts of content	Project represents graduate level work with significant content
Connection to Specific Course Requirements	Project does not fulfill requirements as assigned by the course instructor	Project partially fulfills requirements as assigned by instructor	Project completely fulfills requirements as assigned by instructor	Project exceeds requirements as assigned by instructor

This rubric is designed to evaluate the projects that should be completed by all teachers as part of the workshop/course that is taken.